CONTRACT LET MONDAY FOR NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

PRINCIPAL FOR ST. CLOUD SCHOOL APPOINTED NINE MONTHS SCHOOL ASSURED THIS YEAR

At the meeting of the County Board of Public Instruction in Kissimmee last Monday, Prof. H. F. Zettrouer was appointed as the new principal for the St. Cloud High School for the coming year, acting upon the recommendations of the local board of trustees.

Prof. Zettrouer comes highly recommended by Dr. Rhomer of the University of Florida. He was assistant principal of the High School at Largo last year where he was practically in charge of the school. He has always taken an active interest in all athletics and is a very efficient coach in baseball, football, basketball, etc., which will mean that the St. Cloud School will move forward in the athletic field under his directions.

With the appointment of Prof. Zettrouer as principal, the faculty of the St. Cloud school is practically completed with the exception of Science teacher in High School, and it is understood, the Sixth and Seventh Grades. These places will no doubt be supplied before the opening of school.

Mr. A. J. Gieger, who was appointed under the Smith-Hughes Course of study, has been in St. Cloud getting his work outlined and ready for the opening of school in September. A special meeting was held last Monday evening for the purpose of finding out the number that would be in his class this year and about twelve boys were present and anxious to take up the agricultural work, while six others failed to report but will no doubt take up the studies.

A special meeting of the teachers and the new principal has been called for Saturday, August 18th, at 9 a. m., for the purpose of getting together and discussing school matters, and organizing in order that everything will be in readiness for the opening of school. It is hoped that every teacher in the city will be present at that time.

The faculty for the coming year as far as could be ascertained at present, will be as follows: Principal, Prof. H. F. Zettrouer; Assistant Principal, Mrs. Laura Lee; Latin, Miss Margaret Welsh; Science, to be supplied; Agriculture, A. J. Gieger; English, Mrs. Lulu Atwood; Sixth Grade to be supplied; Fifth Grade, Mrs. Ruby Bailey; Fourth Grade, Mrs. Rosemary Landis; Third Grade, Mrs. Vera Jones; Second Grade, Mrs. Edna Jones; First Grade, Mrs. Lillian Cougher; First Grade Assistant, Mrs. Ruth Parker.

JOE TRACEY CAPTURED AT ALLIGATOR LAKE TUESDAY

Word has been received that Joe Tracey, who escaped from the state prison farm at Raiford about a year ago, after having been convicted of being accessory before the fact in a highway robbery case, was captured at 1:30 a. m. Tuesday when he approached the store of E. B. Richards on Alligator Lake, and asked for something to eat. Tracey was made a prisoner and immediately taken to Orlando where he was lodged in the county jail. There has been an outstanding reward of $100 for Tracey's capture since his escape.

It is understood that Tracey made the remark to some friends that he was willing to give himself up and finish his sentence now that whipping had been abolished from convict laws and some believe he was on his way to the authorities when captured by Richards.

BAILEY SAYS TO GROW MORE SWEET POTATOES

Mr. C. A. Bailey of Bailey's Grocery informed the Tribune reporter that during the month of July he bought and sold over 14,000 pounds of sweet potatoes. Some were purchased from local growers and the rest shipped in from other parts of the state and Georgia. Mr. Bailey stated that the potatoes purchased from the local growers were just as good and in some cases better than those shipped in from other places. He stated that the land in St. Cloud is more suitable for sweet potatoes than for some other crops and urged the people to plant more sweet potatoes.

This is a matter that should be given more attention and at least a large enough quantity grown to supply the local needs. No doubt a good income can be realized from this crop.

All teachers of the St. Cloud School are requested to be present at the school house at 9:30 a. m., Saturday, August 18th. The meeting is called for the purpose of consultation with the new principal regard the work for the coming year.

ST. CLOUD'S GROWERS ASSOCIATION

The St. Cloud Growers gathered in the Chamber of Commerce room last Thursday evening for a most interesting and profitable session. There was some disappointment that the speakers who were expected from Sanford had at the last moment wired their inability to come, but that was soon forgotten in the interested reports and discussions that arose.

Messrs. Bailey and Armstrong told of the efforts to clear the canal of obstructions and expressed the opinion that with but small expense the canal could be opened its entire length.

S. W. Porter made the report for the marketing committee and spoke of certain plans the Directors had under advisement.

Mr. Brannan announced that more than 100 acres had been listed for planting in truck crops which insured a volume of business that should make for successful operation, and expressed his opinion that a considerably larger acreage would be planted.

It was learned that several persons had been mentioned for positions in truck crops who are not in a position to plant themselves but would like to have put to crops. Any one desiring land for planting should communicate with the Secretary, Mr. Landis, who has the list.

The first order of seed has arrived and is ready for distribution. Any one wanting seed for present or later planting please notify the Secretary that the orders may be gotten off in time.

Also begin to figure on your fertilizer and the amount you want that the association may know your needs and provide for the supply. The wise man and the successful growers can not afford to wait until these things are actually needed before placing his order. Talk it over with the Secretary.

Refreshments were served by those master caterers, Seymour and McCarthy.

ST CLOUD BAND TO BE REORGANIZED ON WEDNESDAY

A meeting of all the members of the St. Cloud Band and all citizens interested in the band has been called for next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the band room, for the purpose of reorganization. It is expected that the new director will be on hand and plans will be discussed relative to continuing the organization.

The band has not held a meeting for the past two or three months, owing to the lack of enthusiasm on the part of the members. The Chamber of Commerce appointed a committee to look into the matter and the committee has been busy the past month trying to get the band started again, and this meeting is the outcome of their efforts.

A band is a real asset to any city, and under the plans of the Chamber of Commerce, it is expected that a new pavilion will be erected in the city park soon, where concerts could be held regularly during the winter season. This would be one of the greatest drawing cards the city could have in the way of entertainment, and should have the support of every citizen.

It is hoped that a good turn-out will be had on Wednesday night and that everybody will boost for a bigger and better band. All members are requested to be on hand with their instruments, and anyone who plays an instrument is urged to be present at this meeting, whether you have been there before or not.

The meeting is to be a get-together affair with perhaps a short rehearsal, after which refreshments will be served.

BAILEY'S BUS LINE TO MAKE TRIPS TO DAYTONA BEACH

According to an announcement made in this issue of the Tribune Bailey's Bus Line will make regular week-end trips to Daytona Beach and return during the month of August, the trip to include a free ride along the beach.

Trips will be made August 4th, 11th, 18th and 25th, and return dates August 6th, 13th, 20th and 27th. Parties can make the trip over to the beach and return on any date given. This will give St. Cloud people an opportunity to spend a week or more at the beach, where they can enjoy the surf bathing and fishing. Or if desired, week end trips can be made, and it is expected that a large number of St. Cloud people will make the trip.

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association on Monday, August 6, 1923, at the school house, at 4 p. m. This is an important meeting and all should be present.—Secretary.

P. E. MORGAN SUCCESSFUL BIDDER WORK IS TO BE STARTED AT ONCE

A special meeting of the Board of Public Instruction of Osceola County was held at Kissimmee Monday morning for the purpose of opening bids relative to the construction of the new St. Cloud High School. The meeting was called to order at ten o'clock by Chairman H. M. Katz, who stated the purpose of the meeting and instructed the secretary to proceed with the opening of all bids received.

Bids received were as follows: C. C. Hanner, Orlando, $44,421.19; Marshall, Jackson Co., Lakeland, $51,050; J. C. Hanner Construction Co., Orlando, $50,420.48; P. E. Morgan, St. Cloud, $41,743.08. Mr. Morgan also made a second bid of $39,281.20, providing certain changes in the specifications were made.

After the reading of the bids the Board went into executive session with the Architect, Mr. P. C. Samwell, of Winter Park, Fla. After discussing the proposed bids, Mr. Morgan was selected as the successful bidder, and the specifications were made.

It is understood that Mr. Morgan will begin work immediately and that he has already several carloads of material on the way to St. Cloud. The time given in the contract for the construction of the building is 135 days.

FIRST ANNUAL REUNION OF ST. CLOUD TOURISTS HELD AT ALLIANCE, OHIO

About seventy friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson gathered at their pleasant home on South Union Street, Alliance, O., on Sunday, July 22nd, where the first annual reunion of St. Cloud tourists was held. They came from Louisville, Canton, Mass., Marlboro, Westville, Damascus, Homewood and many other places in this vicinity.

A banner was displayed on the front lawn facing the main street, which read "From St. Cloud, Florida, We Welcome You." which was donated to Mrs. G. N. Bailey by the St. Cloud Chamber of Commerce and which attracted many who passed by.

After a bounteous dinner served on the beautiful shady lawn in California style, a good program was rendered. Several snapshots of the group were taken. The addresses of special significance during the program were given by Mr. Johnson in which he welcomed the guests and expressed pleasure at seeing his friends of the sunny Southland.

A permanent organization was formed at this time and was the outcome of this gathering. It was planned to meet yearly at the Johnson home, and officers elected were as follows: Mrs. Daniel Wilson, President; Mrs. L. A. Kelley, Vice President; Mrs. L. Lines, Conrad, Secretary and Treasurer. A fund to carry on the work was started and Stephen Schell collected $7.25.

Those present from a distance were Mrs. J. W. Pickens of St. Cloud, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wood of Orlando, formerly of St. Cloud. Others present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lines, Conrad, and Mrs. E. E. Scramm, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Knoll and Mrs. J. R. McQuilkin and sons Walter Ford and Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stanley and daughter, Mildred, Mrs. Minnie Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. PRESIDENT HARDING DIES

The whole Nation was shocked to learn of the death of President Warren G. Harding at San Francisco at 7:30 (Pacific Time) o'clock today. President Harding was on his return trip from Alaska, when taken ill, and was the first president of the United States to visit that territory.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PLEASSED WITH GOOD RESULTS BEING OBTAINED FROM ADVERTISING

BIRTHDAY PARTY HONORING MISS JESSA GODWIN

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Godwin gave a delightful birthday party in honor of their daughter, Miss Jessa Godwin, last Wednesday evening at their beautiful home at corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Twelfth street.

The evening was very pleasantly spent with games and music, after which delicious refreshments were served. All departed at a late hour wishing Miss Godwin many happy returns of the day.

Among those present were: Misses Vera McGill, Eve Bass, Pearl Hickman, Florence Coyle, Susie Mae Brown, Ola Montrose, Evelyn Harris, Editha Malone, Pauline Townsend, Savanna Hubert, Artie Montrose, Jesse Godwin, Mesdames Wallick, A. P. Bass and mother, Leo Godwin, D. W. Montrose, Leon Godwin, W. R. Godwin and Victoria Underhill, Messrs. Tobe Bass, Leslie Wigginton, Chas. Knowlden, Floyd Davidson, Beverly Mann, H. L. ZIMMERMAN ENJOYING SUMMER IN PENNSYLVANIA

An interesting letter from Mr. L. U. Zimmerman, of the Conn. Department Store, was received by Rev. N. W. Beauchamp recently, in which he spoke of their delightful trip and vacation at Point Marion, Pa. He makes special mention of the fine meeting at the cherry welcome at the Trinity Methodist church in that city. They attend the Sunday School there which Mr. Zimmerman states is conducted by "five wires" full of pep and enthusiasm. They spent the first Sabbath at Savannah, Ga. He sent an illustrated clipping of a traveling house, "Beau Champ" owned by Geo. W. Beauchamp, a retired business man of Chicago, who is traveling with his family in a "honzlaw on wheels."

ST. CLOUD BOYS LEFT MONDAY FOR TRAINING CAMP

St. Cloud will be well represented at the Citizens Military Training Camp at Camp McClellan, Alabama, during the next month. The boys who left last Monday for the camp were: Newell Atwood, Richard Atwood, James Tharber, Earl Cleveland and Clarence Nourse and is a good showing for a place the size of St. Cloud, considering the number of young men here.

The C. M. T. C. gives the boys of the country the benefit of outdoor life together with military discipline, a combination which will go toward making real men and useful citizens of all who attend the camps. It also teaches the principles of good government, advanced citizenship and the protection of the National resources.

Florida sent more men to the camps last year in proportion to the white population than any other state in the Union, and because of her splendid showing the original quota for this year of 245 has been increased to 700, and it is expected that the total number allowed will be in attendance.

MOTOR PARTY VISIT EAST COAST ENROUTE JACKSONVILLE

A merry party started from here to Jacksonville last Thursday, Mr. Todd, who has been a visitor in St. Cloud for a week, desired to visit the East Coast before returning to his home in Connecticut. Bright and early Thursday morning a party of friends accompanied him by auto to Jacksonville, stopping at Daytona long enough to take a "dip" in the ocean and enjoy the beautiful beach.

The party spent the night at Daytona, leaving the next morning for St. Augustine. After driving around to different places of interest there, we had dinner and then started for Jacksonville arriving about 6 p. m. Friday. We stopped at a hotel and after resting had dinner and then proceeded to spend the evening seeing all we could of the city.

Saturday morning, after leaving Mr. Todd at the boat the party started back to St. Cloud arriving at 11 p. m. having had a very delightful trip. Those accompanying Mr. Todd were Mrs. A. C. Conklin, Elder J. Spaulding, Mrs. B. G. Mann and C. W. Litch. Mr. Todd expects to sell his interests in the North and return to St. Cloud and make his permanent home.

A party composed of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Porter, Mrs. W. H. M. Goodrich, and Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Seymour left Wednesday for a month at Coronado Beach. They expect to have some good fishing while away and will no doubt have some good fish stories for their friends when they return.

The regular weekly luncheon and business meeting of the St. Cloud Chamber of Commerce was held at the headquarters of the organization last Wednesday noon with President Parker presiding.

After the reading and approval of the minutes of the previous meeting, several letters were read relative to the advertising of St. Cloud by citizens who are now visiting in the North, and several requests were on hand for copies of the new folder just issued. The members are pleased to see actual results obtained from the efforts of the advertising committee and now that the new folders are in hand ready for distribution, there is no doubt but that in the next month many new visitors will be brought to the Wonder City.

The park report by Rev. Wm. Landis shows that the work there continues to progress. The work on the croquet and tennis courts is progressing and the park in general presents a more attractive appearance. As many citizens as possible should turn out for the annual Fourth of July afternoon in order that it may be completed before the tourist season. Plans for the new pavilion for the park are expected soon, and the work in general is progressing nicely. The report of Mr. Landis will be found elsewhere in this issue.

The report of the drainage question was made by Mr. C. A. Bailey who stated that several citizens went to the canal last Thursday afternoon and succeeded in clearing the canal of some hyacinths, but that the job was quite an undertaking. It seems that this canal is the only drainage from East Lake, and since the Taft Drainage system has been turned into East Lake during the past year or so, the canal is not large enough to carry the water away very rapidly. The question was discussed by the members present and the committee was continued with instructions to make further investigation.

Mr. S. W. Porter reported as chairman of the band committee and stated that a meeting would be called for all interested in the St. Cloud Band in the near future where the matter of reorganizing would be taken up. It is planned to secure the new director and hold rehearsals for a month, then give a concert and ask the citizens to give their support.

The refreshment committee who served yesterday's luncheon was composed of Messrs. Bailey, Harlow, and McKay, who served a delicious lunch of roast pork, rice, potatoes, ice tea, rolls, and coconut pie. The committee for next Wednesday will be Messrs. Diefenderf, Sage and McCarthy.

REPORT ON PARK WORK FOR THURSDAY JULY 28

By Wm. Landis

It was hot at the park last Thursday afternoon and we rather envied those who had gone to the canal, nevertheless a faithful few were on hand to see that the park work was not neglected. J. P. Blood was the first to arrive closely followed by J. W. Pickens. This was Mr. Pickens' first appearance, and as a first appearance it was most successful. It has been suggested that Mr. Pickens thought it a good place to reduce and we feel sure he sweated off fifty five pounds. We recommend the remedy to others. J. M. Faller, Fred Stevens, J. B. Collins were among the brave and worked mightily and well; as did Frank Philpott who is indeed a workman that needs not to be ashamed.

Evidently Dr. Griswold's prescription for delinquent workers failed to get the desired results as she was again anxiously looking for her substitute that never came. We advise the Doctor to change her medicine and apply an alternate dose of shingle or hickory tea. That is a prescription that works, we know from experience.

Wayne Davis was another welcome new comer and though it was his first appearance none worked better than he.

Mrs. Bird and Helch were again on hand and Helen had found a new recruit in Martha Parker. These ladies may not be very strong in muscle but their will and spirit is unimpaired.

Boak carpenter McGill was again on hand and the finished product bears evidence of his skill.

Time record—

J. P. Blood	4 hrs.
J. W. Pickens	4 1/2 hrs.
L. M. Farker	4 1/2 hrs.
Fred Stevens	4 hrs.
J. B. Collins	3 1/2 hrs.

Legion

Indianapolis.—Rhode Island, Delaware and West Virginia, in relative order, lead all other states in contributions to the American Legion's fund to decorate the graves of overseas dead, despite the fact that they are among the smallest departments of the organization. Total contributions for the fund received at legion national headquarters in Indianapolis are now $128,870.72.

Topoka, Kan.—In an effort to "humanize" care of disabled war veterans, the members of the Kansas department will entertain sick and wounded former service men from the National Military Home near Leavenworth at their homes in all parts of the state. Many veterans have not been out of the hospital for more than two years. Treated as guests in the homes of auxiliary members, the war fighters have expressed satisfaction with the project which takes them out of the dreary hospital atmosphere for a few days.

Washington.—Construction of hospitals for disabled war veterans is progressing in a manner more satisfactory to the American Legion than heretofore, according to legion officials in Washington. Bills are scheduled for construction of a 250-bed Veterans Bureau hospital at Livermore, Cal., and another hospital later will be built in Southern California. The Bureau recently authorized construction of a 250-bed hospital at Aspinwall, Pa., urged by legion men of that state.

Davenport, Ia.—Adjusted compensation for veterans of the world war will not drop, Rep. Congressman Burton E. Sweet of Waterloo, Ia., author of many bills for relief of disabled former service men, declared during a recent visit to Davenport. "The nation owes this debt to the fighting men and it is a debt which will not be paid until it is carried," he said.

America should have demobilized wealth and labor just as she demobilized arms power in the war as a measure of justice, according to Mr. Sweet.

Indianapolis.—With almost twice as many members as it had last year, the Georgia department of the American Legion is leading all other states in membership increase over 1932, according to the most recent report of the legion's national treasurer in Indianapolis. Other states that have exceeded the total for last year, according to standing, are: Arizona, Idaho, Utah and New Jersey. Legion departments which have achieved nine-tenths or more of their membership for last year are, in relative order, South Carolina, New York, Arkansas, Washington, South Dakota, Iowa, Alabama, New Hampshire, Ohio and West Virginia.

Indianapolis.—Assisted by the American Legion and by large industrial establishments, the United States Veterans Bureau has been able to place almost all of the 19,401 men rehabilitated between July 1, 1932 and June 1, 1933, according to information received by legion national headquarters in Indianapolis. Corporations are adding veterans trained by the Bureau to their lists of employees. The Bethlehem Steel Company recently asked for 200 ship workers from among the candidates. Leonard Bolles, legion national adjutant, recently has offered the aid of employment bureaus maintained by legion posts in all sections in Florida, plus for Veterans Bureau trainees.

Waterbury, N. D.—A man who had not been heard from since 1929 filed the last state bonus claim registered by the American Legion service office in this country before the three limit for applications expired. The claimant is Thomas Underland and his application probably will result in a reunion with his daughter, who has not seen him since he disappeared in 1929.

Underland was admitted to the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers at Johnson City, Tenn., and is now an employee of the Home. A short time ago the daughter appealed to the legion's post service division to locate her father and a letter to the executive officer of the Home unexpectedly revealed Underland's whereabouts without delay. With the information that he was at once writing to his daughter in this city.

Underland's rights to the bonus were protected by wire so that he might not be barred by filing his claim after the expiration date.

New Citizens Pledged to Loyalty By Legion Officials

Minneapolis.—One thousand citizens who have received their naturalization papers within the last year repeated a pledge to the American flag before Leonard Bolles, national adjutant of the American Legion, who spoke in Minneapolis recently. Led by G. V. Barron, commander of the Minnesota department of the legion, the newly-made citizens pledged to vote, to support the constitution, to defend the flag and to uphold the American people forever and ever.

"We the children of many lands, who find safety beneath the sacred folds, pledge our hearts, our honor, and our lives to the protection of the flag and of the American people forever and ever."

World War Fighters in Russia Denied Compensation

Washington.—Veterans of the world war, who have taken up residence in Russia, are experiencing some difficulty in obtaining claims against the United States government according to information received by Joe Sparks, chairman of the American Legion's national legislative committee.

Because there are no persons in Russia authorized to take acknowledgments on applications, affidavits and other papers applying to claims made by disabled war fighters, the Veterans Bureau has found it necessary to hold in abeyance all claims of persons residing in Russia until such time as the proper consular officers are able to operate.

The American Legion has been asked by the Bureau to work out some procedure whereby the situation can be remedied.

Oswley Discusses Interests of Public

Indianapolis.—American citizens are interested in the development of a national educational program for building a higher type of citizen, above the prejudices of hyphenated and bigotry, Alvin Oswley, national commander of the American Legion, declared on his return recently to legion national headquarters in Indianapolis. Commander Oswley has visited forty-five states, and has made, from two to five addresses a day in audiences ranging from 100 to 20,000 persons.

American Legion policies, he said, are being received with favor by the general public. He declared that the people are more interested in the welfare of disabled veterans than they ever were before and that the stand of the legion for an immigrant in a holiday and in opposition to radicals had struck the chord of popular approval.

Citizens of America are in favor of the legion's stand for a universal draft act, under which capital and labor and all the resources of America would be conscripted in the next war, according to Commander Oswley. The legion's defense of the occupation of the Ruhr and its war on profiteers also are popular, he said.

Legion members are taking their place in public affairs, Commander Oswley pointed out. He said that three governors, four lieutenant-governors, four United States senators and more than thirty members of the lower house in congress are legionnaires.

Legion Opposes "Fake" Veterans Activities

New York.—Armed by the traditional activities of swindlers who have gained the public by representing themselves as veterans of the world war, Lexington Post No. 106 of the American Legion in New York recently adopted a resolution urging the New York legislature and Congress to enact legislation regulating manufacture and distribution of service and battle insignia and suppressing spurious veterans' medals and publications.

The legion has discovered that many persons who did not serve in the war are wearing badges, buttons, medals and even decorations for valor with a view of collecting public sympathy for various questionable projects.

Publishers of spurious veterans' magazines have increased their operations to such an extent that they have gloated more than five million dollars from the public within a period of fourteen months, according to the legion.

Refugees often peddle the publications with the plea of "help ex-soldiers"; "proceeds help disabled men"; "wounded himself in France and cannot get a job". In most cases the peddlers were not in the war and many agents were found to have bought "wound buttons" from private concerns. Magazines have been disposed of, some at twenty-five cents a copy and others at a price as low as ten cents.

This situation tends to injure and is harmful and detrimental to the interests of all veterans. The resolution of the New York post states, "tends to lessen the respect and regard which the people necessarily and properly hold for them, exploits the patriotism of and degrades all veterans for the benefit of a few and permits gross frauds upon the public in the name of the veterans of the world war."

Legion Convention To Consider National Issues

San Francisco.—Declaring that unrestricted immigration constitutes a menace to the future of the United States, Leonard Bolles, national adjutant of the American Legion, stated that the question of immigration will be of great importance in the deliberations of the legion's national convention to be held in San Francisco next October. The legion national official, who recently visited this city to consider convention arrangements, told convention committee members that legion members are delighted at the prospect of coming to a convention in California.

Total exclusion of immigration for a certain period of years until the country assimilates those immigrants who have already come to this country is advocated by the legion, Mr. Bolles said.

Referring to the policy to let in thousands of immigrants espoused by Albert Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel Corporation, Mr. Bolles said: "It is far more important to us that America shall remain America than that the steel trust should have plenty of cheap labor. America cannot maintain herself in the face of such an influx and a halt must be put to it for a time."

The problems of wounded veterans will be given careful consideration by the coming convention, according to Mr. Bolles. He said that hospital work had been making rapid strides but that there was still room for great improvement.

To aid all projects for popular education and to see to it that future plans to the end that literacy shall be abolished in the United States during the next decade will be one of the important works of the coming convention, Mr. Bolles said. Also the question of physical education for the young will be considered and plans devised to aid this through the Boy Scouts and other similar organizations. With the aim of increasing the health and efficiency of the coming generation and developing a better comprehension of citizenship.

The legion is convinced in the absolute justice of adjusted compensation, at its necessity, economic soundness and fairness to the people of the United States, the legion official stated in predicting that the compensation law will be adopted at the next session of Congress.

"When Senator Smoot, a bitter enemy of the bill, says it will pass at the next session, I think it a good sign," Mr. Bolles said, declaring that Congress did not ask the fighting men how to raise funds for the war or how to raise troops, he said that it would be highly presumptuous on the part of the legion to tell it how to raise money to pay adjusted compensation.

He said that the dominating motive which will bring several hundred thousand veterans to San Francisco for the convention is to carry into effect the same service for the nation as in times of war.

Old Florida Trails Should Be Preserved

The Palm Beach Post, in a recent issue, calls attention to the importance of the historic trails which traverse Florida. The Post says that the Old Spanish Trail traverses Florida from Pensacola to Fort Myers, is now being looked after, but shorter trails which they of ancient times and perhaps kept open for safety's sake, should by all means be preserved by being made state highways and so protected.

potent as memorials of Florida's strenuous past. Other states are as preserving their historical highways and Florida could do no better than to follow the example set.

Positively crumpled, constructed as they are of the soft, yielding copper, the machinery left in place by Florida's first sugar manufacturers will succumb to rust and exposure, but the old roadways, winding under liveoak, palm and pine, by lake shore and river bank, through swamp and hammock, may be made everlasting, a fitting memorial to bravery, courage and fortitude, a suggestive reminder, also, of Florida's progress.

The Post thinks that the state of Florida, or even county road districts would do well to open, repair and hard-surface all these old trails, windings here and there through picturesque hamlets or within deep forests, not only thus preserving historic routes but adding to the state's system of road building as well. Among the trails in question are the old King's road from New Smyrna to St. Augustine, thence to Jacksonville; the Hernandez trail from Tampa to a point in Brevard county above Titusville where it joins the Dixie Highway at right angles; the Capron trail from Fort Pierce to Kissimmee through Messenger and on to Tampa.

Although the oldest state in point of settlement, Florida is not so rich in historic landmarks that she can afford to let any of them fall into premature decay for want of protection.

St. Augustine faithfully and patriotically has taken care of those in her own backwash. The relics of a later colony are still to be found on the Halifax river in Volusia county, where they excite much interest among sightseers and Fort Dallas at Miami is an object of veneration among native born remnants of early settlers. The so-called "forts" of Seminole war days are perpetuated only in their names, rather in the prefix thereto most of them being found south of a line drawn, hitherto, of the state east and west. These forts were in reality only garrison posts where a small force of men was stationed for the purpose of keeping open line of communication and these "lines," now rapidly being obliterated are of as much importance as the forts.

Let them open, for they were for many years an important part of Florida's earliest and best system of highways.

McRAE HARPER, FUNCHES, LEHMAN TO SPEAK DURING FARMERS' WEEK, 'VILLE

Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. McRae, Dr. J. N. Harper of Atlanta, M. J. Funches of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, and Earl Lehman, secretary of the Orlando Chamber of Commerce, are among some of the special speakers for Farmers' and Fruit Growers' Week at the University of Florida, August 6-11, according to the latest announcement by university authorities.

Mr. McRae will talk on Florida of the future. Dr. Harper is chairman of the Southern Soil Improvement Committee and ranks high among the agricultural developers of the South. He will talk on the fundamentals of fertilizer practice. Professor Funches, an agronomist well known throughout the country, will make several talks on fertilizers and farm crops. Mr. Lehman will speak on highway beautification.

Other special speakers and lecturers are: L. M. Rhodes, state marketing commissioner; Dr. J. V. Knapp, state veterinarian; Miss Elvira Gieson, state home demonstration agent; and Prof. Leathell Wyman of the United States Forest Service.

The program for the short course is planned to cover almost every phase of Florida agriculture and home economics. Many farm families have reported it their intention to make the week their vacation week.

Accommodation can be secured both on or off the university campus at reasonable rates. The program includes play and refreshment as well as work and study. Preparations are being made for an attendance of a thousand farm people.

STORIES OF AMERICAN LIFE

Wastes His Genius on Burglar Alarms

CHICAGO.—William F. Streit, 3247 North Racine avenue, manufacturer and installer of burglar alarms, learned after a visit to the state's attorney's office that he has been wasting his genius.

For the profits of his war on the simple second-story man went as fast as he collected them, he asserted, into the "bucket" in the office of M. L. Meyer, 106 West Jackson boulevard.

"I guess I'm a lamb, all right," Streit said to Assistant State's Attorney George E. Gorman, who is conducting an investigation into some 40 alleged bucket shops in the financial district. "I played with the wolves of La Salle street and they sheared me of several thousands."

Streit was only one of scores of the victims of the alleged "bucketers." They filed in groups into the prosecutor's office, coming so fast that Prosecutors Gorman, Robert McMillan and Milton D. Smith did little else during the day but question them.

"It was last fall," continued Streit in his story to Prosecutor Gorman, "that I received a call from M. L. Meyer & Co. A man who called himself Mr. Bradley told me over the phone that a friend of mine had told him I had a little money to invest.

"We'll make a trader out of you,"

he told me. And then he advised me to buy some General Motors stock.

"We've got the inside dope that General Motors is going up wrong," he said. "Get on it—it'll be like taking candy from a baby to clean up."

"I purchased 25 shares at 17. Two days later it dropped two points. I asked 'Mr. Bradley' about it. He said their dope must have gone wrong somewhere. 'I can't understand it,' he told me. 'I'll tell you what, I'll put you on to something we're sure of now.'

"No he sold me 100 shares of Chicago Steel Wheel at 6 1/4. It went up slightly, and he called me back the next day and told me I better take 200 shares more at 7. I did, and put up a margin which took all the ready money I could raise. Two days later Chicago Steel Wheel dropped to 5, and I was wiped out."

"And all this time," said Prosecutor Gorman, "you were manufacturing burglar alarms?"

"Yes," said Streit sadly. "Yes, and installing them."

Prosecutor Gorman declared that "the worst evil" of the "bucketers" had been that they victimized in practically every instance persons who had saved $1,000 or $2,000. A list of the victims proved this, but there was one among them who had lost $15,000.

METHOD OF ISSUING SCHOOL CERTIFICATE PROMISING RESULTS

Florida's new method of issuing certificates to school teachers, as provided for by the act passed last June, is developing features that promise results beneficial both to the teachers and the progress of the state school system. A marked effect is shown from the exemption from examination upon teachers enrolling for summer school work, the new law providing that under certain conditions applicants for certificates may present unexpired certificates as part of their examinations for higher certificates.

The department of education has ruled that when subjects and grades of the certificates held meet the requirements of the certificate sought, exemption shall be granted. As a consequence many summer school students are not this year repeating courses in grammar school subjects covered by certificates held by them but are enrolling in higher studies, thus widening their range of knowledge and making themselves better fitted for teaching.

The enrollment for the first month of the summer schools in five elementary subjects at the university and at the State Women's College, given below for 1922 and 1923, shows in tabular form just how the teachers are affected.

State College for Women
1922	1923
Total enrolled	344
Enrolled in geography	148
Enrolled in arithmetic	236
Enrolled in U. S. history	105
Enrolled in Eng. grammar	107
Enrolled in civil govt.	105

University of Florida
1922	1923
Total enrolled	373
Enrolled in geography	173
Enrolled in arithmetic	265
Enrolled in U. S. history	204
Enrolled in Eng. grammar	200
Enrolled in civil govt.	137

Hereafter a holder of a second grade certificate has been required to pass examinations for a second time on eleven subjects and on two new subjects before being entitled to a first grade certificate. Not many were apparently willing to risk the second examination without review, hence the forming of the summer schools in the grammar school studies was brought about by teachers preparing themselves for the second examination. Those going to school for the first time under the old method and holding no certificate could be drilled in accordance with their needs because the size of classes was prohibitive of effective drill, according to state school authorities. Their classmates already were more or less familiar with the subject matter and holding certificates on the same, answered the majority of the questions put by the teacher and marked time.

In the view of Superintendent Caverton of the department of education the inference may be drawn from conditions apparent this year "that the recruits are receiving more individual attention this year than formerly and that the veterans are being relieved of a denuding grind, and are pushing forward into new fields of knowledge with that interest which accompanies the consciousness of achievement."

FLORIDA FRUITS AND FLORIDA DOLLARS

For some weeks now the Tampa Tribune has been saying some hard things about the railroads, most of which have been deserved, and now The Tribune is going after the diners, where it is said that they are charging 30 cents for a half grape fruit.

The Tribune declared that the railroads were making a $35.00 profit on every box of grape fruit served on a diner.

Whereupon the vice-president of one of the roads commented, declaring that The Tribune exaggerated, and that the railroad was "only making $18.50" by way of profits!

The Tribune declares that grape fruit could be served for ten cents a portion, and still make a profit for the railroad.

Another charge that has been brought against the railroads is that they are serving canned California peaches on trains which are carriers of Georgia peaches.

But is this any more remarkable than the fact that right here in Pensacola, and in other Florida towns, we are buying California fruits instead of Florida fruits?

We talk a great deal of Florida publicity and Florida enterprise, and then we step out to the nearest fruit stand and buy California fruits.

Why do not Florida people insist on buying Florida fruits? And why do not fruit salesmen of the state make this practicable by supplying the Florida market?

Not that we do not want to patronize other states. If we show that spirit we shall have no right to ask other states to buy from us. But we need not send all of the Florida fruits out of the state. And when we do have them set before us, they need not be of an inferior quality as they nearly always are.

Let us patronize our home growers as well as our home industries. And let the growers remember that a home dollar goes as far and sometimes farther than one of the other kind, farther than one of the other kind.

MERGER PLAN OF METHODISTS HAS BEEN ADOPTED

Plan of Joint Committee On Unification Now Goes To General Conference Of Churches For Consideration

Cleveland, July 25.—A plan for the merging of the general conferences of the Methodist Episcopal church, North and the Methodist Episcopal, South, separated since 1845, was adopted tonight by the joint commission on unification. The plan will now go to the general and annual conferences of the church for ratification.

Delegations from both branches, comprising the membership of the joint commission, adopted the plan at separate meetings today, after minor changes were made in the original plan submitted at yesterday's meeting. Further changes were made by the joint commission tonight, but none are said to be important.

Members of the commission predicted tonight that the legal formalities, necessary to secure the changes desired in the constitutions of the two branches before reunion can be accomplished, will be completed within two years. These formalities include ratification of these changes by both general conferences, domestic and foreign, into which local churches are grouped.

Tonight's action brought to an end the meeting of the joint commission which opened yesterday and was scheduled for four days. One outstanding advantage to be gained by the union is the opportunity provided to launch a Methodist program of world service, according to Bishop Edwin Paislee Monson, of Nashville, Tenn., chairman of the southern enterprise of both branches. Bishop Monson said there are Methodist Episcopal churches in almost every country. Exceptions are in Great Britain and Australia, where there are Western Methodist churches.

Tentative plans have been made for the inauguration of the "world service program" at the conclusion of the Methodist Episcopal century movement, planned to cover a period of five years ending in 1924.

The general conference of the Northern branch meets at New York, N. Y., in May, 1924. The general conference of the Southern church is not scheduled to meet until 1926, but the bishops of that branch are under instructions, given at its general conference last year, to call a special conference.

Etiquette

What & When to do it

Any questions on etiquette will be gladly answered in this column if addressed to Alcedo, care of this newspaper.

Dear Alcedo: If a young lady is asked to go on a picnic with a man, who furnishes the luncheon, the lady or gentleman?—Thanks, R. H.

The gentleman. The person extending an invitation is always the one to see that things are ready. However, as a man usually has facilities for putting up a meal, the lady should ask if there isn't something she can do or something she can contribute.

If a girl meets a young man with whom she is acquainted on the street, should she say anything if he is talking with another girl?—R. H.

It is quite proper for her to stop and speak if she wishes, but usually more graceful if she just smiles or bows her head in recognition.

In a letter from a young lady in Connecticut, who is going to make a visit, she says: "My friends are Catholic and I want to know whether I should attend my own church, which is Protestant, or go with them. If I go to theirs, should I conform with their services?"—Miss R. H. Conn.

It would be very gracious of you to attend your friends' church. The chances are that they will ask you if you have any preference. Then mention your own. No, it would not be necessary to conform with their services.

A THOUSAND FARM FOLK PREPARED FOR FARMERS' WEEK, STATE UNIVERSITY

Preparations are being made for an attendance of one thousand people—farmers, farm women and farm children—during Farmers' and Fruit Growers' Week at the University of Florida, August 6-11, according to an announcement by authorities in charge.

Reports being received indicate attendance from many parts of the state never represented at the farmers' week at the state's college of agriculture. Letters from a number of counties and communities announce planned motorades of farm people. These parties are probably due to the fact that roads in almost every direction out of Gainesville have been put in excellent condition within the last few months.

Should the attendance reach the thousand mark, university officials say, the farmers' school will be on a par with the teachers' school here during the summer, as far as enrollment is concerned.

A purchased Jersey bull calf and a set of Bailey's Encyclopedia of Horticulture are being offered to the two counties having the largest registered attendances.

The programs as prepared are planned to take care of almost every phase of agriculture of the state, as well as home economics. Printed programs have been placed in the hands of county and home demonstration agents for distribution to those who desire to see just what is being offered.

The week will not pass without a fair amount of play and entertainment. Living accommodations can be secured on or off the university campus at reasonable rates.

St. Cloud Is Going Forward

St. Cloud is going forward at this time at a rate never before witnessed in the history of its existence. More good, substantial residences are being constructed than at any time since the development commenced. There has scarcely been a week during the summer that one or more splendid families have not come to its purchased homes and taken up their permanent abode. The contract has been signed and work actually begun on the new high school building. Our own townsmen, P. E. Morgan, having been awarded the contract. His energy and push guarantee an early completion of this beautiful structure. Mr. McIntosh, Mr. Raymond and others are making permanent improvements on the lake front. The Chamber of Commerce has been instrumental in establishing two tourist camps, one on the old site in the highway, the other at the lake front. This, it is believed, will amply take care of the great crowd that is soon to be headed for our town. Progress is being made steadily advancing. The City Council is practically forced to put in a new hall at the power plant to meet the present demand. The improvements in the City Park will give us the best playground in this section of the state. The St. Cloud Growers have now listed for truck growing 120 acres of the best soil in this, or any other state for that matter. There seems to be an element of new life in every line of progress and development in and around our bustling city.

Growers Active

If push and energy count for success the new organization, "The St. Cloud Growers Association" will put this section of the county on the map. Last year the St. Cloud Growers operated in conjunction with the Kissimmee Growers which proved very unsatisfactory on account of the headquarters of the organization and all supplies being kept at the latter place.

This year headquarters will be in St. Cloud and the organization will be owned and operated by St. Cloud business men. The average acre now produced for trucking purposes in St. Cloud is greater than that pledged from St. Cloud and Kissimmee last year.

This is one of the most important steps ever taken by the St. Cloud business men. It is now assured of success but the measure of success depends upon the co-operation of our people. Every property owner in or near St. Cloud should lend every influence financially and morally toward boosting the cause.

ONE BOY AND TWO GIRLS

Only one boy applied to the county superintendent of schools for the scholarship at the state university, created by the last legislature to provide state trained teachers for Florida schools. Lewis Campbell appeared to take the examination, but being the only applicant for the Gainesville scholarship, received it without examination.

Two young women took the examination for the Florida State College for Women scholarship at Tallahassee. Miss Thelma Sutton took the examination in Kissimmee, and Miss Alene Moss, of Saint Cloud who is attending summer school in Gainesville, took the examination in that city by arrangement with the Osceola superintendent of schools. No information is available yet as to the results of the examination.

Veterans Association

The regular meeting of the Veterans Association was held on Saturday afternoon July 28 with Mr. Kenney the President in the chair. Opening song American Prayer, Mrs. Campbell. Minutes of the previous session read by the Secretary and approved. St. Cloud yell given and collection taken. Notices read. The Daughters of the Veterans had the program with Nurse Williams as leader. Song, My old Kentucky home by the Choir. Reading by Mrs. Morgan, a poem written by a young man whom she knew when he was in the army.

Editorial

The Best Equipped Reason, to Be Efficient, Must Be Mounted on a Strong Backbone.

Respecting Your Opinions

Evidently the heads of our great railroad systems are coming to sense the fact that the opinion of the people in rural America is worthy of consideration. The new vice-president of the Long Island Railway Company announced the other day that the company proposed to talk to the people through the columns of the home town newspapers in paid advertising. He said he regarded the home town weekly newspaper as the most valuable of all advertising media because the readers have confidence in the sincerity of purpose of their home town editors.

There is nothing so beneficial for corporations as signed advertising that explains to the people their seeming shortcomings and recites their accomplishments. The people know the officials dare not advertise anything but the truth because they will be checked up. Consequently an honest story often turns bitterness of feeling into a desire for cooperation.

Get Rid of Hypocrisy

The British Ambassador, reporting to his government on the effect of prohibition in the United States, is careful to confine himself to a recital of facts, steering clear of all opinions. He states that the accounts in savings banks have greatly increased, that prohibition is a success outside of the Atlantic seaboard and other points of easy entry for the rum runner. He declares, however, it would be improper to assume as a fact that the increase in saving is due entirely to the absence of liquor, because, he says, there are many other elements that enter into the returned prosperity of America since the close of the war. All in all the report is conservative to a degree. Possibly the Ambassador is treading on ticklish ground.

We fear, too, that the press reports have magnified the Ambassador's language in setting forth his statements that the enforcement of the Volstead law is generally a success. Whether one be in favor of prohibition or against it no one can follow the news of the day without realizing that the law is honored more in the breach than in the observance in dozens of states, yes, even in the national capital.

It is this situation of hypocritical temperance approval shouted from the housetops for public consumption while the bottle is used for private consumption that is causing more irritation in the country than the law itself. The poor man who likes his beer has a proper protest if what he considers to be a luxury is kept from him, while the rich man is free for all sorts of indulgence. Disregard for law is eating at the very vitals of democratic government. That, more than prohibition, is the cause of our unrest.

A DINNER PARTY AT HOME OF MRS. JACQUES

Seldom is one given an opportunity to attend a dinner such as was given by Mrs. Theodore Jacques at her beautiful home "Munichville Hall" on Massachusetts avenue last Sunday evening.

As the guests entered the room they were treated to a lovely sight. Flowers were in profusion everywhere and the guests were served with delicious fruit punch. In a short time dinner was announced and the guests entered the dining room. One would think they had entered Fairyland. The table, with its beautiful napery, cut glass, silver and china together with candles and flowers in profusion, was a sight beyond words to describe.

The dinner proved Mrs. Jacques to be a master of the culinary art, as well as a perfect hostess. But the surprise of the evening came with the dessert, when a beautiful cake with sixteen candles and one high red one was brought in, and the guests informed that it was the hostess' birthday. The red candle making up for the remaining years.

Very few of the guests knew that they were to be present at a birthday dinner, but from those who did know of the event some beautiful presents were received among which was $20.00 in gold and several pieces of silverware.

At the conclusion of the dinner the following "Rouser" was read, composed by Mrs. J. C. Payne, one of the guests:

"When Mrs. Jacques was 'sweet sixteen' she did like 'smarts, smarts.' She gathered in her dearest friends And gave a dinner party.

And when the guests were assembled, On that evening fair and bright And gathered around the table It was a lovely sight.

With china bright and linen white And flowers everywhere; And a gracious, cheery welcome For everybody there.

The cake it was with chocolate spread, With sixteen candles on it; So lovely it inspired me To write this little sonnet.

And everybody wished for her A hundred years or more And every birthday happier Than the one the year before.

So we laughed, and joked and chattered— It was like a happy dream, As we helped our hostess celebrate When she was 'sweet sixteen.'

The party broke up at eleven o'clock wishing the hostess many returns of the day. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Illman, Mrs. J. B. Hodge, Mrs. B. G. Mann, Mrs. C. W. Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Payne, Mrs. A. Cooklin, Elder John Spaulding, Mr. W. G. Kling.

The man with evil in his own heart has no trouble in discovering evil in others.

KILLING PROGRESS

We have been listening to the slogan, "Build your home. America must build five million new homes."

After listening to that slogan the people began a great program of construction, and it would have continued had not materials been raised to almost prohibitive prices; and labor demanded a wage increase and a decrease of working time. It is now absolutely certain that the building boom will cease unless these two great factions against prosperity and progress can be made to see the light.

The farmers' building plans have been ground to powder. He has to give 700 eggs in order to secure a plasterer for one day of eight hours' labor. He has to give 20 chickens weighing three pounds each to pay a painter for one day's work. He has to give 1 1/2 bushels of corn, or a year's receipts from one-half acre, to pay a bricklayer for one day's work. He has to furnish 42 pounds of butter, or the output of 14 cows' feed and milk for 24 hours, in order to pay the plumber $14.00 a day.

The farmer has to give a hog weighing 175 pounds and representing eight months' feeding and care in order to pay a carpenter for one day's work.

How can one expect progress and prosperity when the dealers in building materials on the one side and the labor on the other side exploit from the would-be builder the last cent that he can beg and borrow? It is an unjust, unequal and infamous condition that exists in this country at the present time.

We need five million homes, and there ought to be in the cities of this land millions of dollars worth of office and other kinds of buildings erected, but they cannot be builded while there are those who are taking the last pound of flesh from the would-be builders.

RICHARD LLOYD JONES
SAYS
Power is Within You

All men have a love of power but not an equal capacity to gratify it. Power is something more than mere energy; it is a directed force. Whatever tension the steam gauge on a locomotive may show, the engine is a lifeless thing without a brain-guided hand to move its throttle.

Power is force under control. The waterfall is wasted energy; harnessed to a wheel it produces mill power. Concentration is the secret of power. Hitch your energy to some fixed purpose.

To be noble is to be powerful. Negative goodness is never a contributing goodness; positive goodness is. Positive goodness has purpose. Energy put to purpose is power.

This world always makes way for the man of power and he makes room for many. So does real power direct for good.

The men of greatest power are they who give to the world a spiritual rather than a material force. Napoleon was great because he directed his power to make himself a crowned master of men.

Lincoln was great because he used his power to make men masters of themselves. Christ was the greatest because He used His power to spread the glory of the Golden Rule over the world, teaching men that they serve themselves best when they serve others.

His example brings to every man, woman and child the simple lesson that in all the world there is no sweeter thing than a self and gentle power which unceasingly works for the good of mankind.

So it is that they who have the most power in the world are they who are most generous in heart. Power cannot have too gentle an expression, for its opponent is always weakness.

Manhood is measured by the use made of its power.

Poem by Uncle John
While men ain't over-anxious to acquire a pair of wings, it's a laudable ambition to aspire to better things. . . . This world ain't synergetic with a life of snowy white—she'll spot yer robe with blood-stains, or, she'll blind ye with her might. . . . She keeps a special snuff-pot for the stry worldly-wise, for the saintly-out of braggarts is the biggest bags of lies. But, from the meanest hovels to the palaces of kings, we find the admonition to aspire to better things. . . . It's a simple piece of business to indulge the honest soul, when he craves the higher virtues that the devil can't control. . . . and, it's mighty high a certainty on which we can depend—if we store our bins with gratitude, the Lord will be our friend—which leads to the conclusion that all wiser thinkin' brings: We can't be much mistaken, reachin' out fer better things!

The great oxys was discovered in 1915 and is the sight wonder of the world. He reports having a fine time but was glad to get back to Saint Cloud.

Mr. Karl Barth preached last Sunday evening at the union services at the G. A. R. Hall on the subject of "Christian Unity." The hall was almost filled to its capacity and the sermon was enjoyed by all who heard it. Mr. Barth is a student at the Johnson Bible School at Kimberlin Heights, Tenn., and is home on his vacation. He expects to return to his studies in September.

Last Thursday afternoon Miss Nina Cary and Miss Ruby Yeatman gave a party for the Junior League of the Methodist church. The members all assembled at the city park on Gato avenue between Sixth and Seventh street, and played games of all kinds. Refreshments were served. Quite a number were present and all had a very enjoyable time.

Mrs. Grace Calkins has purchased a new electric piano which has been installed in the Badger Cafe for the amusement of her many patrons. The Badger is one of St. Cloud's most popular restaurants, and Mrs. Calkins is always keeping everything up-to-date in her place of business, and the latest addition will be the means of attracting many new patrons.

Word has been received from J. E. Pool who recently moved with his family to Ena, Gallie where he has opened a barber shop. He states that business in that city is good, and that they are paving streets, erecting a new school building and building a new bridge across the river, all of which shows that place to be alive and progressing.

Word has been received here of the death of Mr. Ben Riley, Monday July 23, in LaMoille, Ill. Mr. Riley had made his home in St. Cloud for the past four years with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Riley, on Illinois avenue. His father having died in March, he, with his mother went in June to the home of a brother in LaMoille. His last illness lasted only a month, though he had been an invalid for several years.

Boy Scouts of America. Central Florida Council is planning a two weeks' camp for the last week in August and the first week in September. We hope to have a good representation for the full period of camp cost to each scout is to be one dollar per day.

We hear rumors that our Executive Mr. Harold J. Boyd has been returned to us for another year.

Scout Patrol leader Johnson has not reported his arrival in Kentucky as yet but we are looking forward to a long report in the near future.

SOCIAL MEETING HELD BY BROTHERHOOD CLASS

The Brotherhood Class of the Presbyterian Church met for a delightful social evening, on Thursday, July 26th, at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Zwingli H. Smith, on Minnesota avenue.

Several interesting talks and helpful suggestions were given on the many-sided question of the furtherance of the work of the church.

The guests came in excellent appetite for the ice cream and fine cakes, for which our ladies are famous. Mayor Parker and Mr. Mayor Porter especially did their duty manfully, as always.

The guests included: Mayor and Mrs. L. M. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Seymour, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. McKay, Mr. and Mrs. James Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hannan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frye and Mr. and Mrs. Hodges. A sincere vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Smith for their hospitality. The social meeting lasted a royal good time.

CAN ANY OF OUR READERS SOLVE THIS PROBLEM?

The Tribune has been called upon to help solve many problems during the past few years of its existence, and we feel proud that we are able to serve our fellow citizens. Once more we are called on, and we now pass it along to our readers for their assistance. The following letter is self explanatory:

Editor St. Cloud Tribune:

In a recent issue of the Tribune you published an article "Encouragement from Robinson Crusoe," and instantly memory went back to those days in the "Little Red School House," so dear to our hearts. The poem "Solitude Soliloquy" was a favorite selection. The first stanza reads: "I am Monarch of all I survey, My right there is none to dispute From the center all round to the sea I am Lord of the fowl and the brute."

And the stanzas of the entire poem comes to me, I fail to recall it completely. Can you or your readers, help out and oblige one whose memory of those little old red school house days is precious?

MRS. ELEANOR J. STAJKER.

Any reader who can supply the missing verses is asked to send same to the Tribune for publication.

We can turn out anything in the printing line that you need, at a price as low as any one, quality, material and workmanship considered. Come in and see us before placing your order elsewhere.

"Yes it is a fine idea, but it takes MONEY to do that"

How many times have you heard that remark?

It marks an important line between success and failure. Many honest lives have been wasted in a will-o'-the-wisp chase, jumping from idea to idea until life was spent and nothing achieved.

One idea successfully put across is worth a half-dozen better ideas which fall by the wayside thru lack of vision. Usually, the lack of vision is in failure to establish a reserve fund in cash or credit to finance the idea to a materialization.

Your success is going to be built upon ideas—ideas in one form or another. In proportion to your ability to carry through those ideas will be your success.

Start today to establish that reserve fund. A saving account is the first step.

ORDER DE MOLAY IS INCREASING VERY RAPIDLY

With the granting of letters temporary to the Parkland Chapter at Louisville, Kentucky, the Order of De Molay marked its one thousandth chapter in the United States, according to an announcement by Frank S. Land, Grand Scribe and founder of the movement.

No fraternal organization has grown with the same rapidity as De Molay, which, within a period of four years has grown a boys' club of nine members to a membership of well over one hundred thousand of the country's finest youth.

De Molay, Mr. Land said, is a secret organization for boys between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one and is built on a ritual anyone would subscribe to. It stresses good citizenship, good citizenry and teaches constructively about schools, churches and like subjects.

No other organization, according to Mr. Land, stresses citizenship as strongly. It teaches a boy implicit faith in his parents and guides him into better citizenship through good morals and manners.

WASHINGTON NEWS

Man has ever tried to bury and destroy truth, and never yet succeeded. Roman emperors attempted to destroy truth, but truth destroyed them, and with them the civilization they had debauched. Men tried to destroy truth during the Dark Ages, but somewhere, somehow, the torch maintained its fire, and the civilization of today grew out of the ignorance and superstition of the times when burning was anathema. The Bolsheviks tried to destroy truth when they turned God in effigy and made religion a crime; now it is truth which is destroying Bolshevism. Men gone mad with self-censorship and the "dignity" of their position often attempt to destroy truth, when it is in the form of criticism, but truth is able that which is mighty prevails.

In New Mexico an intrepid editor criticized a court. The court sent him to jail for a long sentence on charges of criminal libel and contempt of court. Whereupon Governor Hinkle comes to the rescue with a complete pardon in both cases, holding that the liberty of free speech and a free press had been infringed and that the editor was only exercising his rights as a free American citizen in saying what he thought.

The American people had a taste of what suppression of free speech meant during the war. For political and military reasons it was then necessary; now it is no longer necessary. Free criticism can't hurt an honest government, an honest official, an honest court. To deny any man the right to criticize is to make the body or the man criticized, unwarranted; and, as the old woman said as she looked at the giraffe, "there ain't no such animal."

All honor to Governor Hinkle, whose Americanism includes not only clear thinking, but honest courage!

Considerable amusement is felt in governmental circles in the National Capital over Representative Manlove of Missouri, displaying upon the door of his office, a large poster advertising the Omaha, "Play in the Omaha, the Land of a Million Smiles." It reads, to the disapprobation of old timers in Congress who see the dignity of a Federal Building much injured. Mr. Manlove, however, can retort that the United States shipping lines are advertised in the passport division of the State Department, which apparently did not think it beneath the dignity of Uncle Sam to invite those going abroad to go on a United States boat!

Just why it is undignified for a Member of Congress to advertise his state, but perfectly dignified for the United States Shipping Board, Treasury, and Post Office to display their posters in their buildings, no one has yet explained.

TEACHERS' UNIVERSITY SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED

Child Health Association Encourages Instructors.

Washington, July 20 (Capital News Service).—The American Child Health Association, Hon. Herbert Hoover, president, announces the award of fifteen scholarships for summer courses in universities to teachers who have qualified as especially able in the promotion of child health and welfare.

These scholarships were established to stimulate teachers to develop their own methods of teaching health to children in schoolrooms, through trained interest and individual experimentation.

"The awards are made to the successful applicants in recognition of the quality and success of their past work in health teaching, and to equip them through the most approved training for extended service in this field," Miss Lucy Oppen, secretary of the teacher scholarship committee said in announcing the awards.

The proof of the pudding is in the after effects.

Flashes of Florida Fact

By Moses Edman.

Florida is a land of beautiful surroundings. It is made of massive trees with wonderful foliage and clinging vines and moss and palms, of rose bushes rising to the house tops with blossoms of many hues, and lilacs and fancy leaved caladias, and tiny beauties everywhere seeking for a place in the sun. Every home too can have its garden, producing things to eat in each month of the year, and no snow or ice to blight the ever present green. In Florida the mocking bird sings in the night (as well as in the day). The way to Florida is open all the year and northern people can come by rail or automobile or airplane or bicycle.

I occasionally hear people express fear of snakes, for which in Florida there is very little cause. There are many visitors to Florida who never saw one. There are snakes in this state, of course, but not one where there are dozens in the dry places and mountain states. In this connection it will be of interest to note that the American consul at Calcutta, India, in a report to the U. S. Department of State, says that more than 25,000 persons lost their lives in that country last year because of snakes and wild animals. To be exact, the consul says that some 23,000 persons died in India last year as a result of snake bites, and that 2,176 persons were killed by wild animals, as far as reported.

Rover W. Babson, the statistician, who has international reputation, in a recent statement said: "Alabama may become the greatest industrial state in America and Florida the greatest agricultural state. The south has all the basic natural resources—climate, phosphates, fuel, waterpower and shipping facilities." Mr. Babson has faith in Florida having large property holdings in Polk county, known as Babson Park.

S. H. Stern, who formerly lived in Tampa, has just returned after a long stay in California, concerning which the Florida Grower says: "In comparing California with Florida from the standpoint of the homemaker, he says that for the man of moderate means of land in Florida available and easily developed, which can be purchased at astonishing low prices. Undeveloped land in desirable sections in California will range from five to ten times as high in price and that is only the first step, as every inch of land in California must be irrigated at an extra expense. Good grove land in Florida, ready to plant, can be had at from $100 per acre up whereas similar properties on the West Coast would cost at least $1,000 to $1,500, not counting the water rights. He says both Florida and California a fair trial before deciding he would choose as his permanent home and now he says he is here to stay.

The waters in the seas around Florida and in the interior lakes and rivers of the State are potentially the source of a large revenue to the public. The waters are alive with deliciously edible individuals of the finny tribes, besides oysters, crabs, turtles, shrimp and other crustaceans. Millions of pounds of fish are annually caught and consumed in the State and shipped to other states. Rhode Island, with a shore line of about a hundred miles of saltwater compared with 1,500 in Florida, has made a large and profitable industry of oysters, no better than ours. The only sponge fisheries in American waters are in Florida.

The tree blight is now attracting attention in various parts of Florida. S. Hise, the superintendent of Crossview, has developed a new variety called the Okaloosa, which if planted in the fall will give a supply of fruit during the following summer. The tree grows in "clumps," is hardy and notably free from pests. Mr. Hise has had 30 years of experience with this berry yielding tree and no failure was noted during that period. Write him for particulars.

The 7th annual convention of the Florida Realtors Association, will be held at Orlando, Nov. 5-7th. The Florida delegation, 135 persons made a notable record at the recent National Convention of Realtors in Cleveland, Ohio.

Karl H. Geisner of the Florist News, St. Petersburg, has been touring over the state, concerning which he says: "Florida is a big state, just how big you cannot realize until you start rambling from one end of it to the other, taking time as you go along to visit the spots of interest. The trip cannot be made, if made right, in one week or even two. It will take you two months at least and even then you are likely to miss some of the most scenic scenery."

The last annual report of Postmaster General News shows that Florida has 27 rural free delivery routes, covering 9,592 miles and serving 5,810 families. The total of the United States is 44,454 rural routes, with a mileage of 1,191,204 and delivery mail to 6,500,000 families.

The pineapple industry is coming back in Florida from all reports down the East Coast, where years ago it was important. Interested parties can get information by writing to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., by asking for Farmers' Bulletin No. 140 entitled "Pineapple Growing," and No. 1237, "Pineapple Culture in Florida."

It may not be generally known but citrus fruits are the railroads their highest average freight rate income per car in 1922, the revenue being $480.34, the next highest rate per car being cotton, from which our coins are made, the same being $461.79 per car. Other fresh fruits brought an average of $325.70 per car, fresh vegetables $338.16 per car, while the grand total average of all carload traffic was $121.93. Florida is a large shipper of citrus fruits. Just why oranges should cost more to ship by the car than any other commodities is a singular fact.

By act of the recent legislature the county of Volusia was a bird sanctuary. That was a progressive movement. More birds mean better crops and greater freedom from insect pests. At one time Florida had many beautiful and useful birds, but most of them have disappeared, having been killed off, some for the millinery trade, but many more by hunters who seem to like to kill living things. The U. S. Bureau of Biology says the killing of birds is a serious menace to agriculture, every year showing an increase of 1 insect pest. Besides birds are large consumers of weeds.

ALL AROUND PROGRAM FOR GENERAL FARMER AT STATE UNIVERSITY FARMERS' WEEK

The farm-crops program during Farmers' and Fruit Growers' Week at the University of Florida, August 6-11, will be brim full of information, advice and suggestions of value to the general farmer and stockman. This program will deal with the important crops adaptable to a practical diversified farming system suitable to Florida conditions.

In speaking of the Florida farmer as related to this coming farmers' week, S. W. Hatt, who was instrumental in arranging the program for farm crops, said: "Results obtained from farm experiments and practical farm knowledge will be made available for the benefit of the farmer through the bettering his general farm practices. Our program is based on the best practices and is planned for the particular benefit of the small dirt farmer."

Farmers are urged to bring their families with them to Gainesville for this week of farm and home study and instruction, as there will be something for all to study and benefit from. Board and lodging can be secured in the university dormitories for a dollar a day, or just off the campus or up town at reasonable rates.

IMMIGRANT SELECTION EXPERIMENT SUCCESS

Picked Foreigners Have No Difficulty at Ellis Island.

Washington, July 20 (AP).—Officials of the Immigration Service are keenly interested in the result of an experiment in the selection of immigrants in this country, at the port of embarkation, which has just been tried. More than three hundred young Russians were picked from refugees with the cooperation of American consular and naval officers.

Irving Squire, secretary of the Russian Refugee Relief Society, said he expected 500 more, to embark as ships are available throughout the summer, would as easily pass the tests of admission.

"The fact that these men were thoroughly examined overseas makes all the difference," he said, "and as for the few cases that are held up by the letter of the law, the fact that the Appeal Board sits at the island now instead of at Washington allows them to be handled in hours rather than in days or weeks."

V. S. Olive, in charge of the Russian Refugee Relief Society, said the method of choosing has been to favor young men, especially students, and those who had been longest at Constantinople, and about whom leaders of the Russian community and positive information.

"If they claim to have had technical training or ability to speak various languages, American officials tested them carefully," he said, "and the group was weeded out so as to secure the highest average of character and usefulness as future American citizens."

A man will play golf all day for "exercise" who would make his wife carry in the kindling and build the fire.

The religion of optimism is the greatest panacea for the ills of the country that is known.

If a man worked as hard at a political job as he does to get it, there would be a whole lot more efficiency in public offices.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP

Too Many Marks Spoil the Securities

WASHINGTON. — Charging that the German government, by its policy of uncontrolled and unrestrained inflation of the currency, has destroyed the value of American investments in German property and securities, the Association of American Holders of Foreign Securities has filed with the mixed claims commission a plea that the rights of the American nationals be protected.

The contention was made that a loss of $1,000,000 already had been sustained by members of the association as a result of payment of interest in depreciated currency and that the loss in respect to property involved was at least $20,000,000.

The commission is asked to demand that the German interests make good these losses on the ground that the financial policy in which Germany has engaged has amounted to "an immoral repudiation of debts."

In alleging that Germany deliberately inflated its currency and destroyed values, the association contends that

Capital "Social Lobby" Is Stunned

PRESIDENT HARDING has dealt the Washington "social lobby" a staggering wallop. Refusing to sanction payment of $1,700,000 from the federal treasury to reimburse P. DeLoe of New Jersey, ill-starred postwar speculator in Argentine sugar, although authorized to do so by special act of congress, Mr. Harding has severed the link as long as he occupies the White House as measure will have his approval concerning which doubtful methods to obtain its passage have been used.

Back in 1920 DeLoe had a ship in an Argentine port. It was loaded at the time, but on request from Washington the cargo was unloaded and, to add to the sugar shortage here, 5,000 tons of sugar taken aboard.

DeLoe asserts he was induced to import the sugar to the United States by an official of the Department of Justice under the Wilson administration, and that he paid 19 1/2 cents a pound for it. He had official letters to support his contention.

While the sugar ship was en route to New York the sugar market suddenly broke and DeLoe was left with the 5,000 tons on his hands and a loss of $1,700,000.

But What Would Become of Lawyers?

AN EXCELLENT example of the importance of using precise and illuminating language to convey an intended meaning is furnished in the branch bank case now pending before the Supreme court of the United States. This case, which is in the form of a lawsuit between the state of Missouri and the First National bank of St. Louis, is costing thousands of dollars and consuming a vast amount of time of the Supreme court, of lower courts, of bank officials and of lawyers.

Section 5199 of the revised statutes of the United States says: "The usual business of each national banking association shall be transacted at an office or banking house located in the place specified in its organization certificate."

This is the loose, imprecise language which has caused all the trouble. The question is: When the law says "an office or banking house" does it mean merely one office or banking house and when it says "in the place" does it mean definitely a single location?

The national banks of the country hold that the law means to permit national banks to open as many branches as they desire in as many places; and that the use of the words "an office or banking house" is merely typical of the sort of business which

Crissinger and Federal Reserve Banks

D. R. CRISSINGER of Marion, O., has taken office as governor of the federal reserve board, the body which stands at the head of the American monetary and banking system. During his administration of that office he hopes to settle the most fundamental question which now confronts the system, that is, whether the twelve federal reserve banks actually shall be banks of reserve or active, operating banks.

The original theory of the federal reserve act was that these twelve banks should occupy a position in relation to the credit of the country comparable to the position a fire engine occupies to the buildings of a community. It was the plan that the banks should come to the aid of the financial community in times of stress, and that, in the intervals, they should remain practically dormant.

The history of the federal reserve system has been an exciting one. The twelve banks opened in the autumn of 1914, not long after the European war had broken out. The opening of the banks was in the midst of unparalleled disorder and excitement in the financial world.

Right through the war years and then in the period of business boom with subsequent depression, these new

MASONS TO ERECT A DORMITORY AT GAINESVILLE

A dormitory to house the 200 members of the Order of De Molay at the University of Florida will be built in the near future at Gainesville by the Masons of the State according to plans now being completed.

The new building will provide sleeping accommodations for 100 boys, in addition to containing lodge rooms, recreation rooms, and dining room, and will be erected at an estimated cost of $125,000, which will be subscribed by the 18,000 Masons in the State.

"I am familiar with the plan of the De Molay committee to construct a dormitory for boys on grounds adjacent to the University of Florida," yesterday said Dr. A. A. Murphree, President of the State University. "The lots this committee has purchased on University Avenue are adequate and most desirable. A wholesome, moral influence generated at such a place will help to develop high moral character and stimulate the boys to noble purpose. The entire project has our unqualified approval, and to me there could be no more praiseworthy undertaking of my brother Masons in Florida than the erection of this De Molay Hall."

Originating in a boys' club of a dozen members, fostered by Frank S. Land, of Kansas City, Mo., in March, 1919, the organization of De Molay has swept over the country, until the membership has passed the hundred thousand mark, with over 1,000 active chapters.

The Order derives its name from Jacques De Molay, last military Grand Master of the Order of Knights Templar, and martyr of Freemasonry, who was burned at the stake in Paris, France, in 1314. It is designated to carry the boy through the "impressionable" age, from sixteen to twenty-one, providing a program making for good citizenship.

Most of the illa of humanity are imaginary and a lot more are only an excuse for laziness.

FIRE PREVENTION

The National Fire Protection Association at its annual convention in Chicago recommends ways to reduce fire losses which appeal to the common sense of all of us.

On the question of damages for loss resulting to innocent persons from preventable fires it endorses a more general legal recognition of the common law principle of personal liability for damage resulting from fires due to carelessness or neglect, and the enactment of laws or ordinances fixing the cost of extinguishing preventable fires upon citizens disregarding fire prevention orders.

This is strictly in accord with the law which allows damages to an injured party resulting from another's carelessness in operating an automobile, elevator, railroad train, street car, amusement park, mechanical equipment, etc. Then why not some redress against the person who is careless with fire?

The association also urged municipalities to adopt the standard building code in order that fire-resistive construction may be encouraged.

Also that states adopt building and fire protection requirements for public and private hospitals, schools, gymnasiums and the like, and that an official investigation into the causes of all fires be required.

Perhaps the wisest recommendation of all is that pleading for the education of the children and the public generally in careful habits regarding the use of fire.

NATIONAL POLITICS STIRRING

Early Boone are Frowned Upon by Presidential Favorites. Talk Turns To Compromise Candidates.

DAVIS STRONG

Brilliant N. Y. Lawyer Might Get Nomination in Case of Democratic Deadlock.

Written Specially for The Tribune By ROBERT FULLER

NEW YORK, August 2.—Politics are buzzing despite favorite candidates' efforts to avert development of premature booms. Booms, by the way, which would burn up a great deal of their followers' enthusiasm before it could be employed effectively when it would count most—at the party conventions.

Sen. Hiram Johnson's return from Europe and his address at New York; President Harding's return from Alaska and his Pacific Coast speeches; the election of Farmer-Labor Sen. Magnus Johnson from Minnesota; and Wm. G. McAdoo's call and dinner with former President Wilson; all furnished food for a great deal of political speculation here during the last few days.

With politics run in the life, discussion follows some very interesting paths. The presence of National Editorial Association members in New York last week gave political leaders the opportunity to feel the pulse of the country as to sentiment for various presidential possibilities and impossibilities.

Comment and views naturally turned to compromise candidates, particularly in the Democratic party, where leaders think John W. Davis of West Virginia looks a strong "dark horse" for the nomination.

Davis a Brilliant Lawyer. A Dark-Horse Possibility.

Conceded to be one of the most brilliant men ever suggested for the presidency, Mr. Davis has a national and international background equalled by few candidate possibilities. He is at present head of the American Bar Association.

Before Mr. Davis's appointment as Counselor General of the Department of Justice several years ago, he was a Congressman from West Virginia. He was chairman of the Judiciary Committee in the House of Representatives, a remarkable speaker and personally very popular.

He left the Department of Justice to become American Ambassador to Great Britain during the Wilson administration.

Since leaving the government service, Mr. Davis has been active in the legal profession, making his home at New York. Among his clients is the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co. of Wall Street. He is also General Counsel for the Associated Press and attorney for the New York Times.

Nomination of Mr. Davis in 1924 is within the possibilities of a deadlock.

Every member of the family is expected and preparations are being made for them by the University of Florida for Farmers' and Growers' Week, August 6-11.

Snack! Snack! Charles Justed: "I worship my husband." Jealous Thing: "I've heard you offer up burnt offerings to him three times a day."

THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH GIVES ADVICE

Is your child's birth registered? There is hardly a relation of life, social, legal or economic, in which the evidence furnished by an accurate registration of birth may not prove to be of the greatest value, not only to the individual, but also to the public at large.

Do it not only as an act of civilization to register birth certificates, but good business, for they are frequently used in many ways:

1. As evidence to prove the age and legitimacy of heirs;
2. As proof of age, to determine the validity of a contract entered into by an alleged minor;
3. As evidence to establish the right of admission to the professions, and in order to vote;
4. As evidence to establish the right to many public offices;
5. As evidence to prove the legal age to marry;
6. As evidence to prove the claims of widows and orphans under the Widows' and Orphans' Pension Law;
7. As evidence to determine the legitimacy of parents for the debts of a minor;
8. As evidence in the administration of estates, the settlement of insurance and pensions;
9. As evidence to prove the possibility of children under legal years of age for crimes and misdemeanors, and various other matters under the criminal code;
10. As evidence in the enforcement of law, relating to education and child labor;
11. As evidence to determine the relationship of guardians and wards;
12. As proof of citizenship;
13. As evidence in the claims for exemption from, or the right to military service, or jury duty.

Have you safeguarded your child's future by reporting his birth? If you have not, you have not done your full duty by your child.

RESTORING LIFE

Please memorize and practice the application of these instructions. You may restore life. It's the Prime Method.

Many persons meet death every year by drowning, by poisonous fumes, or by electric shock, when a few simple measures would have saved their lives.

The victims are seldom killed outright, and only need to have their breathing restored artificially.

Instructions

- 1.—Start treatment without delay, right at or near the scene of the accident.
- 2.—Lay person on stomach. Turn his head on side and rest it on his left arm so that the mouth and nose will not come in contact with the ground, and extend the right arm forward.
- 3.—Remove all foreign matter from the mouth, such as false teeth, gum or tobacco, and pull the tongue forward.
- 4.—Now kneel, straddling the person, well below the waist, facing toward the person's head.
- 5.—Place your hands spread out on the small of the person's back on each side of the vertebra just above the hips and touching the lower ribs, your thumbs nearly touching each other at the vertebra.
- 6.—Straighten out your arm and swing forward (or downward pressure) slowly so that the weight of your body is gradually brought to bear on the person, not violently less the internal organs be injured. (By this method the lower part of the chest and also the abdomen are compressed and the air is forced out of the lungs.)

7.—Now immediately swing backward (or upward) slowly toward original position, about rebounding your weight. (This will create a suction and admit air to the person's lungs.)

8.—Repeat the forward and backward movement as indicated at the rate of 14 to 16 times a minute, or at the rate you breathe yourself. Swing forward with each expiration and backward with each inspiration.

9.—Keep cool. Do not become excited. Act deliberately and carefully.

10.—Continue artificial respiration in this manner for at least four hours without interruption or until breathing has been completely restored and the person has regained consciousness.

11.—Do not give liquid whatever by mouth until the person is fully conscious, then you may give aromatic spirits of ammonia (1 teaspoonful in half glass of water), hot coffee, tea or water.

12.—If the person is thin, prepare a pad by folding a cloth or blanket and place it under the lower part of his chest. Do not have the pad too thick.

13.—Do not wait to loosen person's clothes but begin artificial respiration immediately. An assistant may remove all tight clothing from the person's chest, neck, or waist.

14.—If you are able to secure hot water bottle or hot bricks, it is well to apply the same to this person's feet and cover legs in order to develop warmth.

15.—Delays and interruptions in the operation of this method may prove fatal. Do not leave the person until he breathes normal and is conscious.

16.—Practice this method of artificial respiration. With it you have in your power the best means of reviving and bringing to life, so to speak, persons overcome by gas, killed by electricity or dead from drowning. Practice it on your friends and have them try it on you. DO IT NOW.

FLORIDA NOT REJOICING CALIFORNIA'S MISFORTUNE

Already some kinds are being thrown out from outside sources that California is not rejoicing.

The fact that Southern California has experienced another severe earthquake, that is not true; the only direct comment noticed that might be construed as seeking to take advantage of an unfortunate occurrence over which the powers of man are as nothing, is a suggestion that Florida is never bothered with earthquakes. The inference being that people should not reside in California in preference to Florida. That is an extreme view and of course can have no weight. Florida sincerely sympathizes with her sister state when misfortune comes a rejoicer over the good things that happen. California spirit has always been big enough and strong enough to triumph over temporary setbacks just as has the Florida spirit exhibited in past years in times of distress and disaster. No portion of our great country enjoys perpetual sunshine unless it be the desert wastes and nobody wants to live there. We must have the cloud and the sunshine in order to understand and enjoy contrast; all states have enough wonderful assets to attract residents who seek certain conditions of climate. Florida is reviving its full share, the number of new residents steadily increasing year by year. And those who do come to us do not come because of the misfortune of others but because they have faith in the state in its resources, and in its future; they are willing to cast in their lot with us and share our burdens.

No Florida has nothing but sympathy and encouragement for California or any other part of the country in the days when nature or some other cause interferes with man's plans for progress.—Lakeland Star-Telegram.

A summer day!—If you can't cut much ice you can cut the weeds that surround your premises.

The cuts want in and the law want to stay in, and both are fearful lest they should be disappointed.

Don't be one of those fellows who think so much of himself that he does not have time to think any good of others.

Putting it off today won't get it done tomorrow. An advertisement in this paper today will bring business tomorrow.

Advertised Goods Reach you Without Lost Motion

A big part of the cost of living today may be charged to lost motion, to slow, slipshod distribution of goods, and to old-style, wasteful selling methods.

For example, every year tons of fruits and vegetables rot on the ground, because it doesn't pay to pick them. Discouraged growers plant less the next season, and the supply of food is reduced. Meanwhile, consumers in the cities near by grumble over high prices. Demand and supply are not brought together.

Contrast this with the handling of oranges. $1,000,000 a year is spent for advertising by the co-operative association of the California Fruit Growers. A large sum; yet it is only about one-fifth of a cent per dozen—one-sixth of a cent for each orange sold.

The cost of selling oranges and lemons through the California Fruit Growers' Exchange is lower today than it was ten years ago.

"In the twelve years since the first campaign was launched the consumption of California oranges has doubled. The American consumer has been taught by co-operative advertising to eat nearly twice as many oranges as before."

"Had the orange industry remained on the old basis, there would have been no profit in growing oranges. New acreage would not have been planted. Old orchards would most surely have been uprooted and other crops planted."

Advertising properly done saves money for the consumer and makes money for the producer by driving out wasteful methods increasing volume and cutting down the costs of selling and distribution.
